Unprecedented snow levels in Arizona's White Mountains places Torreon at the hub of winter fun. Families play in the snow; couples enjoy dining and dancing for Valentine's weekend with 20% off regular price for luxury Lodge or Villa; wine at check-in.

Groundhog Day may be bright and sunny, but 2-3 feet of fresh snow has created Northern Arizona's best skiing, snowboarding and romantic getaway conditions in years. Heavily wooded areas like Torreon Golf community are transformed into winter wonderlands. Kids can make snow angels, snowmen and snow forts right in their own front yards. Active winter sports for all ages are at their peak this month during the 2010 winter season. The Torreon website lists winter activities in the region, and downloadable recipes for drinks to warm even the frostiest skier.

One of Arizona's greatest assets is the proximity of entirely different climate zones within reasonable driving distances. The White Mountains are a scenic 3 hour drive from Phoenix or Tucson, so desert dwellers can ski, snowboard, sled, enjoy the glistening snowy vistas, and return to the blue skies of the winter desert within a single weekend. A popular second home area, the towns of Show Low, Pinetop-Lakeside, Heber and Greer offer easy access for families who enjoy the flexibility of 4-season living in summer and winter.

Valentine's weekend is a special treat for couples who want a change of pace. Torreon is offering a special weekend package for 20% off of the usual rates, with a complementary bottle of wine at check-in. The perfect place to ask her to marry you, luxury 1,2,3 bedroom accommodations start at $150 per night, with a 2-7 nightstay. Pet-friendly units are available. Reservations: 298-537-7307.

A spectacular dancing and dining gala in the Torreon Clubhouse on Saturday, February 13, features the culinary talents of chef Eduardo Mata. Live music throughout the evening, and a menu featuring Oysters Rockefeller, Beef Filet or Chilean Sea Bass, crowned by a scrumptuous dessert, invite sweethearts to celebrate this special occasion, then cuddle by the fire in their secluded retreat. Need a quiet table for two? Reservations are required: 928-532-8000.
